Dear Allison,

As always, thank you for being a registered Shop'n Chek Mystery Shopper.

I am starting a new initiative I hope you will find useful – Oh and free! All I need are your eyes and mind, not your wallet.

Do you have the tools for the future? Do you get to mingle with wisdom, humour and knowledge?

I am so lucky that I get to hang out with the most amazing minds imaginable. Only last weekend I was with a group of such minds and decided to share that wisdom through a new website.

This email is to invite you to subscribe to my personal email communication to help connect people - using tools for the future.

What does this mean?

Connection is about connecting with ourselves, and with others.

The tools are the practical tools we can use to make those connections, whether they be lifestyle tips/wisdom or how to use Social Networking on the internet.

No stain removing tips, nor celebrity chatter. It's about you and the tools to connect you with yourself and others.

As an example, I have experts lined up to talk to you about the WHY

- Why our lives go off track
- Why our goals don't materialise
- Why we exist

The HOW

- How to connect with your inner body.
- How to overcome your fear of meeting people
- How to network with your friends over the internet
- How to communicate with a teenage daughter
- How to eat better - what to eat
- How to negotiate
- How to complain, and get your way!

And the OTHER:

- Save money buying a house
- The art of flirting
- Whether on line dating services really work.

Win one of Ten books

When you sign up you will go into the running to win one of five free books by Karen Miles to be drawn at the end of February. Karen's book 'The Real Baby Book you need at 3am' is the perfect gift for new mums providing advice and inspiration when you need it most.

You will also go into the draw for one of five copies of a book I co-authored, simply called Ideas 2. This is a collection of 26 authors who will stretch your mind in ways you have never experienced. I hope you subscribe to my newsletter, and enjoy the goodies. You can unsubscribe at any time, but please stay.

To subscribe just click here.

You can also subscribe from my new website at www.whytohow.com
